

Many of our waterproof tagging products are subject to rules and regulations for their content,, size and materials.

Our role is to create products to assist our customers in following regulations in an accurate and efficient manner. In many instances we recommend tagging with as much of the regulatory information as possible on the tag.

We will assist you in interpreting any regulations that you wish to show us but declare that you the customer are responsible for checking proofs against your specific regulations. We will supply electronic proofs on request for you to submit for approval and we do not print without your approval.

Fishing Industries: Suggested information for lobster and fish tags are COOL (Country of Origin Labeling, plus Wild vs Farmed) for the US market.
